

Heartwood Vintage Wren - Antique Cypress w/Multi Colored Roof Birdhouse

HTW-171

Better than antique, these charming houses enchant with a weathered look and whimsical design straight from Grandma's attic, and they're sure to endure thanks to the meticulous hand-crafted constructions from premium solid wood and insures modern functionality and generations of sturdy use. A haven from cookie-cutter plastic, disposable "consumerism," this is nostalgia that truly nurtures the spirit, from the company committed to old-fashioned virtues like quality and patience. Our skilled craftsmen work right here in America building one house at a time for your family—always with the knowledge that we're building our good name with each house, and we want both to last. People who genuinely care, making products of genuine value, naturally from Heartwood.
